WORKS BY ARCHIM. ZACHARIAS

in Dutch translation

Archimandrite Zacharias (Zacharou), known to some from the many talks he has given in several countries, is a spiritual son of archimandrite Sophrony (Sacharov, 1896-1993), who was an Athonite monk, priest and spiritual father. Later in his life, Elder Sophrony founded the Monastery of St. John the Baptist in Tolleshunt Knights, Essex, UK. And as a spiritual son and biographer of Saint Silouan the Athonite, he became a great inspiration for many.

Following in his steps, Father Zacharias has also shared with his fellow-men the riches of the Christian heritage of the Orthodox Church. His first book was based on his doctoral thesis, but is aimed equally at anybody interested in the teaching of Elder Sophrony, independent of any academic background. After that, he has given many talks – introductory as well as on specific subjects – in which he makes this teaching accessible to people of our times, applying it also to the circumstances of daily life in this world. Several series of these talks have been published, often including questions and answers from the actual meetings.

Seven works are also available in Dutch translation. In this leaflet an overview, with all the necessary book details. In so far applicable, titles are given in the order of the original talks – following the first written work. But each of these books can also be read independently. Full of live-giving inspiration. Warmly recommended!
